

TasTAFE Review

Mr GEORGE question to MINISTER for SKILLS and JOBS

My question comes from a constituent who would prefer that I withhold their name: will the minister confirm what guidance the state government has given to the TasTAFE Training Portfolio Strategic review in regard to the focus of future government-funded training? Is the government pushing for further cuts to creative and design courses in favour of a narrowed skills agenda? What assurances can the government give regarding impacts to regional training centres, and how many courses are scheduled for removal, and what specific industry needs are being prioritised?
