

The James Scott Wing – Future

Ms FINLAY question to MINISTER for HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH and WELLBEING

Kim Moran from Scottsdale has contacted me regarding the future of the James Scott Wing. Their message is really simple. Why leave the health facility sitting idle when it could be delivering care, supporting older Tasmanians, easing pressure on the LGH, creating local jobs and strengthening health care in the north east? As you consider your consultation and expressions of interest, Kim Moran and Tasmanian Labor urge you to prioritise proposals that put patients first and make the best use of this critical public asset.
