

Mining Opportunities for the West Coast

Mr JAENSCH question to MINISTER for BUSINESS, INDUSTRY and RESOURCES

The Prime Minister and the President of the United States recently signed an important agreement to secure supply of critical minerals and rare earths, backed by over $1 billion in new investments and supply chains across both nations. Given Tasmania's growing role in the production and processing of critical minerals, how will this agreement and investment make a difference on the ground for our mining industry and the communities of the west coast, in our electorate?
